- 2. Brothers' House Spring
- 3. Site of Confederate States Commissary building
- 4. First Family house
- 5. Tablet commemorating notable visits to Salem
- The grave of Richard Caswell, Lenoir County (with private citizens of Kinston)
- Tablet in memory of Kiffin Yates Rockwell (with the Rockwell Memorial Association)
- The James McConnell memorial, Carthage (with the McConnell Memorial Association)
- Grave of William Lee Davidson (with the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution)
- Sites in the lower Cape Fear River Valley (with the New Hanover County Historical Commission), as follows:
 - 1. Lord Cornwallis' headquarters in Wilmington, 1781
 - General W. H. C. Whiting's headquarters in Wilmington, 1864-1865
 - 3. Site of British garrison under Major James Craig, 1781
 - 4. Site of residence of William Hooper, in Wilmington
 - 5. Site of residence of Governor Arthur Dobbs
 - 6. Site of residence of Governor William Tryon
 - 7. Residence of Governor Benjamin Smith
 - 8. Residence of Governor Edward B. Dudley
 - 9. Grave of John Baptista Ashe
 - 10. Site of residence of Cornelius Harnett, at Hilton
 - 11. Site of Confederate States Navy Yard
 - 12. Sugar Loaf Battlefield
 - 13. Sites of Fort Lee, Fort Meares, and Fort Strong
 - 14. Site of Fort Fisher
 - 15. Site of Fort Anderson
 - 16. Site of old town of Brunswick
 - 17. Orton, colonial residence of Roger Moore
 - 18. Kendall, colonial plantation of George Moore
 - 19. Lilliput, colonial plantation of Eleazer Allen
 - 20. Site of old Charlestown
- The Boyd house, near Winchester, Virginia, where General James Johnston Pettigrew died, July 17, 1863 (with the North Carolina Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy)
- Site of Belle Grove house, near Winchester, Virginia, where General Stephen Dodson Ramseur died, October 20, 1864 (with the North Carolina Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy)
- Grave of Nathaniel Macon, Warren County (with the Macon Community Club)
- A tablet in Lexington, commemorating the residence of Daniel Boone in Davidson County and the route of retreat of General Nathanael Greene's army, 1781 (with the Board of Commissioners of Davidson County)